SEEK NEW BIDS FOR ELECTRICAL WORK AT SCHOOL

The Upper Adams joint school system, planning an enlargement of the agriculture shop, rejected all electrical bids Friday, and set September 28 as the date when bids will be opened again for the electrical work.

Bids for the general construction and plumbing and heating contracts, submitted with the electrical bids Wednesday night, remain open. The district will let contracts for the general construction and heating and plumbing at the same time contracts are let for the electrical work.

Receive Many Bids

While no contracts have been let for the other work, the usual procedure is to accept the low bidder. The bids for the general construction were: C. M. Gross, Dover, $19,570; William Putt, Saxton, $25,967; Relsinger Brothers, Carlisle, $22,000; I. H. Crouse and Sons, Littlestown, $19,750; U. H. Mecke, McSherrystown, $23,900; R. S. Mowery and Son, Carlisle, $22,137; Gettysburg Construction Co., $21,180.

The bids for the plumbing and heating contract were: Bert West, Biglerville, $5,800; I. H. Crouse and Sons, Littlestown, $4,250.

The school plans erection of a 38 foot by 42 foot addition to the east of the present Agriculture shop, which will more than double the size of the present shop.

School board members were notified by two contractors, whom they had expected to submit bids, that the contractors were not presenting bids because the specifications require payment of union wages.

The "union wages" phrasing of the contract is required by law for all school construction, and has been for a number of years school officials said. Previously no such difficulty had occurred in asking for bids.

There will be an open forum discussion for questions and answers from those in attendance. Clayton M. Hoff, executive vice president of the Brandywine Valley Association in Chester County will give an illustrated talk. Procedure for organizing an area watershed association will be outlined.

The meeting is part of a statewide program to develop action by State organizations in water conservation and to emphasize protection and management of natural resources. 34-Year Old American And Ailing Italian Bishop Are Released By Commy China

HONG KONG (AP)—Continuing their slow-motion turnover of 10 American civilians they had promised to release at once, the Chinese Communists sent a third man across the border to freedom today.

He was Lawrence R. Buol, 34, of Stockton, Calif., who arrived at the frontier after five years eight months imprisonment.

The Reds also released an ailing Italian bishop who said he had been a prisoner in Communist China since 1951.

Buol, former operations officer for the American-owned Civil Air Transport was in high spirits. He told welcoming American and British officials that his years of confinement had not been too rough physically, but "morally I was treated badly."

Soon after he crossed the border, Buol was joined by his wife Sue, who had worked tirelessly to win his release.

With tears in her eyes, she raced into her husband's arms.

"Doesn't he look wonderful?" she exclaimed.

Buol was clean shaven and had a fresh haircut.

BIGLERVILLE'S FIRST BANKER VISITS BROTHER

John T. Bigham, of Houston, Texas, and formerly of Barcelona, Spain, this week visited the man he induced to move to Biglerville rather than Gettysburg, S. G. Bigham, his brother and now one of the more prominent residents of the Upper Adams community.

The whole thing occurred nearly a half century ago. When the Biglerville National Bank opened 50 years ago, John T. Bigham was chosen as its first cashier. A "one-man bank," he opened the financial institution in the living room of the E. D. Heiges' home, while the first bank building, now the Biglerville telephone exchange, was being constructed. For several months Bigham operated the bank from a desk.

Urged Hardware Store

About two years after the bank had opened, S. G. Bigham decided to move from near Harrisburg to Cumberland Twp., and operate a farm near Gettysburg. John Bigham talked his brother out of the farming idea, suggesting that he move to Biglerville and open a hardware store. S. G. Bigham did and for years was a leading hardware dealer in the community.

John T. Bigham, however, after about four years at the Biglerville Bank, received an offer to be assistant cashier of the National City Bank at Baltimore and moved there. Later he was a banker in Chicago. About 1916 he received an offer to represent N. P. Sloan Co. of Philadelphia, in Barcelona, Spain, and went there. He was in Spain for 20 years, first as representative of the Sloan Co. and then as an insurance broker.

Ousted By Revolution

Driven from Spain in 1936 by the revolution, he arrived in the U. S. owing for his boat passage and with about $4 in his pocket—all he was allowed to take out of the country.

However he brought with him an honor—he was president of the American Chamber of Commerce in Spain, a post to which he had been elected a few months before the revolution broke out.

With the situation in Spain unclear he accepted a post with the Phoenix Mutual Insurance Co. of Hartford, Conn., spent four years at Harrisburg, then moved on to his post in Houston, Texas.

He left Biglerville Friday to visit a sister, Mrs. C. N. Trout, Red Lion.

WILL NOT VOTE HERE ON NOVEMBER 8

The Associated Press

President Dwight D. Eisenhower might have a farm home in Gettysburg but its almost certain he will not be eligible to vote in Pennsylvania at the Nov. 8 election.

In order for the president to be eligible to cast his ballot in Pennsylvania Nov. 8 he first must appear personally and register in the state.

The president's summer whitehouse at Denver, where he is vacationing, said he has no plans to come to Adams County today to register.

The president bought the house five years ago and shortly after made known his intentions to become a Pennsylvania voter.

Meanwhile, on a statewide basis, there was a good possibility that the number of new persons placed on the voting rolls would again send the total registration beyond the 5 million mark in the state.

Registrants for the primary election last May 17 fell to 4,915,000 from a figure 5,315,000 in the gubernatorial election last year.

Democrats were leading in new registration in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. Even in traditionally Republican Dauphin county Democrats were running ahead in last year's voters.

The election registration in this year's primary was: Republican 2,749,897; Democrat 2,115,122; minor party and non-partisan 59,426. Total 4,915,445.

NAMED CONSULTANTS

Dr. Roy W. Gifford and Dr. Bruce N. Wolfe, Gettysburg, have been appointed consultants in surgery at the Hanover General Hospital, it was disclosed at the regular meeting of the hospital board of directors Thursday evening.

Saw Yanks Board Train

The prelate said six or seven Americans had boarded his train at Hankow and probably were now in Canton, 80 miles from Hong Kong.

Buol's release came just 24 hours after the arrival of two other Americans—Walter A. Rickett, Seattle, a Fulbright scholar, and the Rev. Harold W. Rigney of Chicago, Roman Catholic educator.

Both had been held since 1951.

Last $1,000 Bond Is Paid

County officials Friday paid off the last of Adams County's bonds and for the first time in a half century the county was free of debt. County Treasurer Jacob G. Appler (left) is shown handing bond 150, the last of $150,000 worth paid off over a 20-year period, to Commissioner's Clerk Clarence C. Smith in exchange for the order authorizing him to pay the bondholder $1,000. The bond was cancelled immediately after the check was written.

8 USWV RIFLES ARE PRESENTED TO S.U.V. POST ARE WED TODAY

Eight rifles that once comprised the "armament" for the firing squad of the local camp of the United Spanish War Veterans, were turned over to the Sons of Union Veterans at formal ceremonies Friday night. They will be used for such patriotic services as may be seen fit.

The ceremony was held in the GAR rooms, E. Middle St. The rifles were purchased many years ago by Robert E. Tipton, Marsh Creek Heights, one of the original members of the local USWV, when the USWV post was founded. They were used by firing squads, honor guards, and at special exercises.

Now the USWV finds it more and more difficult to participate actively in patriotic and military affairs. Only a few members remain active and the post can no longer provide honor guards or firing squads.

The presentation Friday evening was made by John A. Zimmerman, Chambersburg St. commandant and adjutant of the local Spanish War Vets and "the only one active in the post functions. Tipton said he was unable to make the presentation himself.

Commander Zimmerman in presenting one of the rifles to David K. Tawney of the SUV asked that "these rifles may continue to serve and to bring patriotic fervor to our section."

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white lace gown over satin with a full skirt fashioned with alternating ruffles of satin and lace ending in a cathedral train. The fitted bodice was designed with a scoop neckline and long sleeves tapering over the wrists. Her fingertip veil was attached to a tiara of sequins and pearls. She carried a bouquet of white pompons with a corsage of white roses in the center.

Two Bridal Attendants

Miss Margaret Smith, Baltimore, served as maid of honor. She wore a blue nylon Elizabethan style gown with a fitted bodice. She wore a floral headdress with a short veil and carried a colonial bouquet of fall flowers matching the gown.

Bridal attendants were Miss Shirley Flickinger, Arendtsville, and Miss Mary Catherine Lathorum, Baltimore, who wore strapless ball-length gowns in shrimp-colored net over matching taffeta. They were matching jackets. Their shrimp-colored floral headdresses were fashioned with short veils and they carried colonial bouquets of fall flowers carrying out the color scheme of the gowns.

William Gallagher, W. Middle St., was the best man. Ushers were Carl Keller, Gettysburg, and John Keller, Gettysburg R. D.

The bride's mother wore a street-length dress of blue and white silk.

TELLS COUNCIL OF PROBLEMS OF PLANNING GROUP

Roy H. Hammond, past president of the Rotary Club, manager of the Blue Ridge Oil Company, and chairman of the Gettysburg Planning Commission, addressed representatives of 13 women's organizations at the first fall meeting of the Women's Civic Council held at the YWCA Friday evening. He said that the other members of the commission, appointed by council on a non-political and non-paid basis, are Mrs. Forrest Craver, Mrs. Lester O. Johnson, Jacob Britcher and Wilbur L. Plank.

Hammond stated that their job is to study long-range problems of the town and present them to the town council. They have recommended an ordinance regulating the size of trucks in certain sections of town and are now engaged in a study of the entire traffic problem. He said that he came to Gettysburg to make his home five years ago because he felt that it was a good place to live. He said that he "wonders sometimes if the natives really appreciate what they have here."

Decries Criticism

Most of our problems arise because Gettysburg is a little city operating as a small town and many things that are offered for the good of the place are criticised by the people before they are studied thoroughly, which makes it difficult for those who are planning for its future.

He commended the Civic Council for the "serious work" it has been doing and urged the women to lend their efforts to making the "stranger-in-our-midst" feel at home in Gettysburg.

Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler, president, presided at the business meeting which preceded the talk. The following changes in representation were reported: AAUW, Mrs. C. Allen Sloat replacing Miss Beatrice Pfeffer; Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, Mrs. Elwood Felix replacing Miss Anne Faber, who continues in the council until the end of the year as secretary; Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler changed representation from the YWCA to the Business and Professional Women's Club. Terms of the representatives of the PCBL and the Postal Clerks Auxiliary have expired but the new appointments were not present.

Various matters of local interest which have been under study during the year were reviewed and new topics considered. Mrs. Donald E. Myers, chairman of the nominating committee, reported that a slate will be presented next month for election in November.

45-Day-Old Baby Expires On Friday

Carolyn Marie Ott, month-and-half old daughter of Thomas and Leatrice Ott, Fairfield R. 2, died at the Warner Hospital Friday evening at 5 o'clock. In addition to her parents, eight brothers and sisters survive: Thomas E. Raymond, J. Donald E. Mary Lou, Patricia Ann, Allen E., Regina May, and John Bruce Ott.

These grandparents also survive: Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Ott, Emmisburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Coe, Taneytown.

Graveside ceremonies will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock with Rev. John Sullivan, pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, officiating. Interment in St. Joseph's Cemetery. Funeral arrangements in charge of S. L. Allison.

Two Cars Damaged In Friday Crash

The 1947 automobile of Melvin C. Epley, 50, Littlestown R. 1, was demolished, but Epley escaped injury when his car was struck by a truck at the intersection of the Littlestown Rd. and the Hoffman Orphanage Rd., at 12:30 o'clock Friday afternoon, state police said.

Police reported that Epley was driving north and sought to make a left turn into the Hoffman Orphanage Rd. just as the truck, operated by William R. Smith, 37, Gore, Va., attempted to pass the auto. Damage to the truck was estimated at $30, to the car, $250.

Argentina In State Of Siege As Peron Fights To Put Down Worst Revolt Of 9-Year Reign

By SAM SUMMERLIN

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Forces loyal to President Juan D. Peron struck back savagely today in a drive to put down the bloodiest rebellion of his nine-year reign.

The fighting erupted yesterday on land, sea and in the air and swirled swiftly to scattered parts of the country.

After some 24 hours of seesaw action, the loyalist forces appeared to have grabbed the upper hand. But it was still too early to forecast the outcome.

The revolt was launched by regrouped and augmented dissidents of the armed forces who touched off the unsuccessful attempt to overthrow Peron June 16.

Last night the rebels claimed they were in control of much of south Argentina and the strategic Cordoba Province in the center of the country, about 400 miles north-west of Buenos Aires.

Lashing out in the predawn hours today, troops loyal to Peron crushed two rebel strongholds. A government radio broadcast said:

"Important military troops which are advancing to sufficient rebel centers continue to progress with the support of military aviation."

There was no accurate estimate of casualties in the bitter fighting but the toll was expected to far outstrip the 300 to 400 dead and 1,000 wounded in the June 16 upheaval. The largest announced death count was at Eva Peron, the capital of Buenos Aires Province, where 80 policemen were reported killed.

The rebels early today still claimed control of the central plains of Cordoba, the naval forces at sea, the big naval base of Puerto Beltrame and other isolated spots in the interior.

General Balaguer Leads

Airborne loyalist troops were reported in action against rebel forces at Cordoba, the provincial capital and a city of 350,000 persons.

The rebels claimed yesterday Cordoba was "conquered again for God and fatherland." Brig. Gen. Dalmiro Videla Balaguer, described by the government radio as the leader of the rebellion, proclaimed a provincial government at Cordoba and blamed Peron for

He was Lawrence R. Buol, 34, of Stockton, Calif., who arrived at the frontier after five years eight months imprisonment.

The Reds also released an ailing Italian bishop who said he had been a prisoner in Communist China since 1951.

Buol, former operations officer for the American-owned Civil Air Transport was in high spirits. He told welcoming American and British officials that his years of confinement had not been too rough physically, but "morally I was treated badly."

Soon after he crossed the border, Buol was joined by his wife Sue, who had worked tirelessly to win his release.

With tears in her eyes, she raced into her husband's arms.

"Doesn't he look wonderful!" she exclaimed.

Buol was clean shaven and had a fresh haircut.

BIGLERVILLE'S FIRST BANKER VISITS BROTHER

John T. Bigham, of Houston, Texas, and formerly of Barcelona, Spain, this week visited the man he induced to move to Biglerville rather than Gettysburg, S. G. Bigham, his brother and now one of the more prominent residents of the Upper Adams community.

The whole thing occurred nearly a half century ago. When the Biglerville National Bank opened 50 years ago, John T. Bigham was chosen as its first cashier. A "one-man bank," he opened the financial institution in the living room of the E. D. Heiges' home, while the first bank building, now the Biglerville telephone exchange, was being constructed. For several months Bigham operated the bank from a desk.

Urged Hardware Store
About two years after the bank had opened, S. G. Bigham decided to move from near Harrisburg to Cumberland Twp., and operate a farm near Gettysburg. John Bigham talked his brother out of the farming idea, suggesting that he move to Biglerville and open a hardware store. S. G. Bigham did and for years was a leading hardware dealer in the community.

John T. Bigham, however, after about four years at the Biglerville Bank, received an offer to be assistant cashier of the National City Bank at Baltimore and moved there. Later he was a banker in Chicago. About 1916 he received an offer to represent N. P. Sloan Co. of Philadelphia, in Barcelona, Spain, and went there. He was in Spain for 20 years, first as representative of the Sloan Co. and then as an insurance broker.

Ousted By Revolution
Driven from Spain in 1936 by the revolution, he arrived in the U. S. owing for his boat passage and with about $40 in his pocket—all he was allowed to take out of the country.

However he brought with him an honor—he was president of the American Chamber of Commerce in Spain, a post to which he had been elected a few months before the revolution broke out.

With the situation in Spain unclear he accepted a post with the Phoenix Mutual Insurance Co. of Hartford, Conn., spent four years at Harrisburg, then moved on to his post in Houston, Texas.

He left Biglerville Friday to visit a sister, Mrs. C. N. Trout, Red Lion.

Last $1,000 Bond Is Paid

County officials Friday paid off the last of Adams County's bonds and for the first time in a half century the county was free of debt. County Treasurer Jacob G. Appler (left) is shown handing bond 150, the last of $150,000 worth paid off over a 20-year period, to Commissioner's Clerk Clarence C. Smith in exchange for the order authorizing him to pay the bondholder $1,000. The bond was cancelled immediately after the check was written.

8 USWV RIFLES ARE PRESENTED TO S.U.V. POST

Eight rifles that once comprised the "armament" for the firing squad of the local camp of the United Spanish War Veterans, were turned over to the Sons of Union Veterans at formal ceremonies Friday night. They will be used for such patriotic services as may be seen fit. The ceremony was held in the GAR rooms, E. Middle St.

The rifles were purchased many years ago by Robert E. Tipton, Marsh Creek Heights, one of the original members of the local USWV, when the USWV post was founded. They were used by firing squads, honor guards, and at special exercises.

Now the USWV finds it more and more difficult to participate actively in patriotic and military affairs. Only a few members remain active and the post can no longer provide honor guards or firing squads.

The presentation Friday evening was made by John A. Zimmerman, Chambersburg St. commandant and adjutant of the local Spanish War Vets and the only one active in the post functions. Tipton said he was unable to make the presentation himself.

Commander Zimmerman in presenting one of the rifles to David K. Tawney of the SUV asked that "these rifles may continue to serve and to bring patriotic fervor to our section."

IKE WILL NOT VOTE HERE ON NOVEMBER 8

The Associated Press
President Dwight D. Eisenhower might have a farm home in Gettysburg but its almost certain he will not be eligible to vote in Pennsylvania at the Nov. 8 election.

In order for the president to be eligible to cast his ballot in Pennsylvania Nov. 8 he first must appear personally and register in the state.

The president's summer whitehouse at Denver, where he is vacationing, said he has no plans to come to Adams County today to register.

The president bought the house five years ago and shortly after made known his intentions to become a Pennsylvania voter.

Meanwhile, on a statewide basis, there was a good possibility that the number of new persons placed on the voting rolls would again send the total registration beyond the 5 million mark in the state.

Registrants for the primary election last May 17 fell to 4,915,000 from a figure 5,215,000 in the gubernatorial election last year. Democrats were leading in new registration in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. Even in traditionally Republican Dauphin county Democrats were running ahead in listing new voters.

The election registration in this year's primary was: Republican 2,740,897; Democrat 2,115,122; minor party and non-partisan 59,426. Total 4,915,445.

TELLS COUNCIL OF PROBLEMS OF PLANNING GROUP

Roy H. Hammond, past president of the Rotary Club, manager of the Blue Ridge Oil Company, and chairman of the Gettysburg Planning Commission, addressed representatives of 13 women's organizations at the first fall meeting of the Women's Civic Council held at the YWCA Friday evening. He said that the other members of the commission, appointed by council on a non-political and non-paid basis, are Mrs. Forrest Craver, Mrs. Lester O. Johnson, Jacob Britcher and Wilbur L. Plank.

Hammond stated that their job is to study long-range problems of the town and present them to the town council. They have recommended an ordinance regulating the size of trucks in certain sections of town and are now engaged in a study of the entire traffic problem. He said that he came to Gettysburg to make his home five years ago because he felt that it was a good place to live. He said that he "wonders sometimes if the natives really appreciate what they have here."

Decries Criticism
Most of our problems arise because Gettysburg is a little city operating as a small town and many things that are offered for the good of the place are criticised by the people before they are studied thoroughly, which makes it difficult for those who are planning for its future.

He commended the Civic Council for the "serious work" it has been doing and urged the women to lend their efforts to making the "stranger-in-our-midst" feel at home in Gettysburg.

Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler, president, presided at the business meeting which preceded the talk. The following changes in representation were reported: AAUW, Mrs. C. Allen Sloat replacing Miss Beatrice Pfeffer; Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, Mrs. Elwood Felix replacing Miss Anne Faber, who continues in the council until the end of the year as secretary; Mrs. Guyon E. Buehler changed representation from the YWCA to the Business and Professional Women's Club. Terms of the representatives of the PCBL and the Postal Clerks Auxiliary have expired but the new appointments were not present.

Various matters of local interest which have been under study during the year were reviewed and new topics considered. Mrs. Donald E. Myers, chairman of the nominating committee, reported that a slate will be presented next month for election in November.

Argentina In State Of Siege As Peron Fights To Put Down Worst Revolt Of 9-Year Reign

By SAM SUMMERLIN
BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Forces loyal to President Juan D. Peron struck back savagely today in a drive to put down the bloodiest rebellion of his nine-year reign.

The fighting erupted yesterday on land, sea and in the air and swirled swiftly to scattered parts of the country.

After some 24 hours of seesaw action, the loyalist forces appeared to have grabbed the upper hand. But it was still too early to forecast the outcome.

Armed Force Revolters
The revolt was launched by regrouped and augmented dissidents of the armed forces who touched off the unsuccessful attempt to overthrow Peron June 16.

Last night the rebels claimed they were in control of much of south Argentina and the strategic Cordoba Province in the center of the country, about 400 miles northwest of Buenos Aires.

Lashing out in the predawn hours today, troops loyal to Peron crushed two rebel strongholds. A government radio broadcast said:

General Balaguer Leads
Airborne loyalist troops were reported in action against rebel forces at Cordoba, the provincial capital and a city of 350,000 persons.

The rebels claimed yesterday Cordoba was "conquered again for God and fatherland." Brig. Gen. Dalmiro Videla Balaguer, described by the government radio as the leader of the rebellion, proclaimed a provincial government at Cordoba and blamed Peron for rebel centers continue to progress with the support of military aviation.

There was no accurate estimate of casualties in the bitter fighting but the toll was expected to far outstrip the 300 to 400 dead and 1,000 wounded in the June 16 upheaval. The largest announced death count was at Eva Peron, the capital of Buenos Aires Province, where 80 policemen were reported killed.

The rebels early today still claimed control of the central plains of Cordoba, the naval forces at sea, the big naval base of Puerto Belgrano and other isolated spots in the interior.

Argentina

"many deaths." Loyalist troops were flown to Cordoba and immediately engaged rebel forces in the city's main square, reports from the scene said.

Defeated At Rio Santiago

The first major rebel defeat came at the Rio Santiago Naval Base in southern Argentina, where loyal airmen and ground troops rained bombs and artillery shells on anti-Peron forces. An official announcement said the revolutionary units there surrendered shortly before midnight after a day of furious fighting.

Another government announcement said a rebel garrison at Curuzu Cuatia fell early this morning and loyal troops were in pursuit of the rebels. Many prisoners were reported taken. Cuatia is a rail junction and airport town of 15,000 persons 325 miles northwest of Buenos Aires.

Puerto Belgrano, site of a naval base 350 miles southwest of Buenos Aires, apparently was a major rebel stronghold. A broadcast from there yesterday said the revolutionary forces were gathering for a march on Buenos Aires. The broadcast urged civilian support for the uprising and said:

No Short Struggle

"The struggle has not been started so that it will be over in a few hours. It will last as long as necessary."

Two loyalist air force planes were reported shot down by anti-aircraft fire at Puerto Belgrano. Pro-Peron units were reported in action against rebel-held Bahia Blanca, a major Atlantic port near Puerto Belgrano.

State Of Siege

Peron presumably was directing the counterattack against the rebels from this tense capital. He conferred yesterday with his top ministers and military chiefs at his office and later at the army ministry. Later in the day he went to his residence where a spokesman said he was kept "constantly" informed of the situation.

A "command of repression" headed by Army Minister Maj. Gen. Franklin Lucero was named yesterday to cope with the uprising. A 4:30 p.m. curfew was decreed and a state of siege, previously in effect only in Buenos Aires, was extended to the entire country.

No violence was reported in Buenos Aires, contrasting with the June 16 revolt when the major fighting centered here. But anti-aircraft guns were manned in the city, artillery batteries were set up in the port area and all roads were heavily guarded.

Support of the Argentine fleet was claimed by both the loyalists

LEARN TO WRITE SHORT PIECES IN BEGINNING

By VIVIAN BROWN

The Associated Press

If you want to be a writer, just don't sit around and whine about it. Write something. That's the advice of one of the country's successful writers, Ketti Frings.

"Wishful thinking will get you no place," she says, "aspiration is no good without perspiration."

Mrs. Frings whose recent writing achievements include screen-plays for "The Enigma" and "Foxfire" (Universal), says you'll need to start out as a bread-and-butter writer if you learn to write at all. Forget about writing the great American novel is her advice. If you succeed in getting in the swing of writing at all, you can worry about the novel later. She explains:

Idea First

Good writers are usually lonely people, the kind who do not express themselves in other ways, she says. They enjoy day-dreaming. Loquacious types and good orators seldom have stick-to-itiveness for creative writing. Concentrate on short pieces. Lengthy novels are on the down-hill in popularity, Mrs. Frings believes because writers haven't the time to produce them. Television and pocket edition writing makes a hit because readers want an idea conveyed as quickly as possible.

Correspondence Helps

Correspondence helps for practice in description, she says, but "letter writing is getting to be a lost art." It's so easy to pick up a phone, and long distance rates are cheaper, so young people seldom bother writing. You must be a good reader to be a good writer, she believes. Read as much as you can. Newspaper reading is one of the greatest sources of stimulation for would-be writers, she says. Travel is essential too if you'd be a good writer.

If you can't find a job working at writing, follow night courts and trials where you'll get your imagination whipped up. Talk to people you meet—shopkeepers, elevator operators, policemen. Make notes. Pretend you are reporting the conversation. Write it up when you get home.

Avoid Complex

Whatever happens don't develop an inferiority complex because someone criticizes your writing. Mrs. Frings says: "The average person hides a rejection slip. Why? Fifty different viewpoints might be obtained on one story, so keep sending it out until you strike the person who likes it. Along the way, too, you'll pick up some good constructive criticism if it is needed."

Mrs. Frings who was born Katherine Hartley in Columbus, Ohio started her career as a copy writer for a Newark, N. J. department store, went on to writing radio dramas, then left for Hollywood where she wrote for movie fan magazines. She wrote a novel "Hold Back the Dawn"—also a movie, another novel "God's Front Porch" and a play "Mr. Sycamore" produced by the New York Theatre Guild.

She used to work consistently at the typewriter, but now finds a pen-cil makes her more thoughtful. If you haven't got a typewriter that can't be one of your excuses for not writing either. And that, says Mrs. Frings, is the crux of the whole trouble for would-be writers—they are frustrated by their own excuses.

PROBE LOCAL CRASH

Borough police Friday afternoon at 2:25 o'clock investigated an accident on W. Middle St. in which a car operated by Donald G. Cochran, traveling east, collided with a car of Robert B. McClintock, Steinwehr Ave. Damage was estimated at $250.

GRANTED LICENSES

Marriage licenses have been granted in Frederick to the following: Ralph Warren McClellan, Greenstone; and Darlene Jane Brewer, Emmitsburg; Robert E. Mumma, Rocky Ridge; and Betty Ann Glass, Emmitsburg.

COUNTAIN FINED

A $100 fine and the prosecution costs were imposed in Franklin County Court Friday on John D. Stem Jr., 24, of Fairfield R. 1, who was arrested on a charge of operating a car while his license was suspended after his car was involved in an accident.

and rebels. Most of the fleet was reported on maneuvers in the Atlantic about 600 miles south of Buenos Aires when the revolt flared. One rebel report claimed the fleet was heading for Buenos Aires in combat formation.

Reports from Montevideo said two Argentine destroyers reached there yesterday with five dead and 32 wounded after clashes with pro-Peron aircraft off Buenos Aires. The destroyer Cervantes was interned at Montevideo when it docked with its boilers damaged. The second vessel, the Rioja, left after transferring its dead and wounded to a Uruguayan tug.

Last Period Score Gives Littlestown 6-0 Triumph Over West York Gridders

A last period touchdown, set up by a pass interception by Ozzie Kress, gave the Littlestown High School gridgers a 6-0 victory over West York Friday evening at Littlestown as both opened their Laurel Conference seasons. Last year the teams were co-champs and battled to a 6-6 stalemate.

Kress grabbed off a pass by John Emig of the Bulldogs and returned the ball 18 yards to West York's 28 from where the Bolts drove to hit pay dirt. Kelly Pottorff finally plunging through center from the 1. A bad pass from center prevented a kick for the point and Kress was dropped while attempting to run with the pigskin.

Coach Wib Gobrecht's outfit hammered at the goal line several times during the first period but were turned back each time. After taking the ball deep in Bulldog territory, via a poor punt, Littlestown drove to the 12 only to give up the ball on a fumble.

Halter At Two
West York returned the fumble shortly afterwards on the 22 and at this time the Bolts reached the 2 before they were stopped by a strong West York defense as the second period got underway.

The Bulldogs made a strong bid for a score in the second quarter due to a pair of passes. Joann Bowman passed to his brother, Glenn, for 26 yards and another pass, Bowman to Gooding, was good for 40. However, Littlestown was equal to the occasion and took possession when three Bulldog passes were grounded.

Kress made his key interception on the first play as the final quarter opened, returning to the West York 28. An off-sides penalty cost the Bolts 5 yards but Kelly Pottorff, a fine runner throughout, ripped off 14 yards through tackle. The Bolts were pushed back to the 28 via a stubborn West York defense and a back-in-motion penalty and had a fourth down with 19 to go for a first down.

Horst made known his belief, which he said is the same as that of all the other GOP chairmen in the country, at a meeting last night of the Pennsylvania Republican Institute.

"We (other chairmen) restrained ourselves from attempting to get a direct commitment from Eisenhower but we believe he will be a candidate," Horst said.

He said there is no question that "we (state chairmen) are 100 per cent behind the president."

LEARN TO WRITE SHORT PIECES IN BEGINNING

By VIVIAN BROWN
The Associated Press

If you want to be a writer, just don't sit around and whine about it. Write something. That's the advice of one of the country's successful writers, Ketti Frings.

"Wishful thinking will get you no place," she says, "aspiration is no good without perspiration."

Mrs. Frings whose recent writing achievements include screen-plays for "The Shrike" and "Foxfire" (Universals), says you'll need to start out as a bread-and-butter writer if you'd learn to write at all. Forget about writing the great American novel is her advice. If you succeed in getting in the swing of writing at all, you can worry about the novel later. She explains:

Idea First

Good writers are usually lonely people, the kind who do not express themselves in other ways, she says. They enjoy day-dreaming. Locquacious types and good orators seldom have stick-to-itiveness for creative writing.

Concentrate on short pieces. Lengthy novels are on the down-hill in popularity, Mrs. Frings believes because writers haven't the time to produce them. Television and pocket edition writing makes a hit because readers want an idea conveyed as quickly as possible.

Correspondence Helps

Correspondence helps for practice in description, she says, but "letter writing is getting to be a lost art." It's so easy to pick up a phone, and in long distance rates are cheaper, so young people seldom bother writing.

You must be a good reader to be a good writer, she believes. Read as much as you can. Newspaper reading is one of the greatest sources of stimulation for would-be writers, she says. Travel is essential too if you'd be a good writer.

If you can't find a job working at writing, follow night courts and trials where you'll get your imagination whipped up. Talk to people you meet—shopkeepers, elevator operators, policemen. Make notes. Pretend you are reporting the conversation. Write it up when you get home.

Avoid Complex

Whatever happens don't develop an inferiority complex because someone criticizes your writing, Mrs. Frings says.

"The average person hides a rejection slip. Why? Fifty different viewpoints might be obtained on one story, so keep sending it out until you strike the person who likes it. Along the way, too, you'll pick up some good constructive criticism if it is needed."

Mrs. Frings who was born Katherine Hartley in Columbus, Ohio started her career as a copy writer for a Newark, N. J. department store, went on to writing radio dramas, then left for Hollywood where she wrote for movie fan magazines. She wrote a novel "Hold Back the Dawn"—also a movie, another novel "God's Front Porch" and a play "Mr. Sycamore" produced by the New York Theatre Guild.

She used to work consistently at the typewriter, but now finds a pencil makes her more thoughtful. If you haven't got a typewriter that can't be one of your excuses for not writing either.

And that says Mrs. Frings, is the crux of the whole trouble for would-be writers—they are frustrated by their own excuses.

Citizens List Grievances At Senate Subgroup Hearing On Constitutional Rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — Citizen spokesmen from all walks of life told of threats to constitutional rights in statements for an unusual Constitution Day Senate committee session today.

Their complaints ranged from methods of the House Committee on Un-American Activities and guilt by association or kinship to compulsory unionism, expansion of federal power and suppression of news.

There was also a warning against letting Communists wrap themselves in the protective folds of the constitution and "by subversion destroy us from within."

Begin Investigation

The "citizens' petitions for the redress of grievances," as Chairman Hennings termed them, were prepared for the Senate subcommittee on constitutional rights. The public hearing marked the start of the subcommittee's investigation of whether basic freedoms guaranteed to the people are being eroded.

A feature of the hearing called to coincide with the observance of the 168th anniversary of the signing of the Constitution, was that the "citizen spokesmen" were allotted the seats in the Capitol's old Supreme Court room ordinarily reserved for senators, Hennings and other subcommittee members were to listen from seats customarily used by the public.

The petitions, in the form of statements on the status of constitutional rights, were invited from what the subcommittee considered representative segments of the nation's citizenry. The heads of the largest organization in each group were asked to speak or to name a representative.

Rights Of Petition

The subcommittee said it hoped the proceedings would remind all Americans of their longstanding rights of petition and of how the embodiment of this principle in the Constitution enable all citizens to apply to Congress for protection of their rights and redress of their grievances.

Here is part of what the citizen spokesmen had to say:

Veteran Citizen—Donald R. Wilson, a past national commander of the American Legion: The subcommittee should be sure the nation is safeguarded from those who would "destroy the government and enslave the people while proclaiming that the Constitution prohibits their being unmasked."

Church Representative

Churchman citizen—Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, president of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U. S. A.: The main concern is that no governmental body think of itself as the judge of men's beliefs. He said some techniques of the House Committee on Un-American Activities are "of grave concern to many of the churches."

Teacher citizen—John L. Buford, president of the National Education Assn. (NEA): Asked if innocent persons aren't sometimes convicted merely from association with guilty persons, and said the constitution is violated if a proven-loyal person is harmed because a relative was once a Communist.

Newsman citizen—J. Russell Wiggins, chairman of the Freedom of Information Committee of the American Society of Newspaper Editors and executive editor of the Washington Post and Times Herald: The people's right to know that their government considered "fundamental" and "elementary" in 1789, is now "being disregarded all too frequently."

Other Spokesmen

Farmer and business citizen—John C. Lynn, legislative director of the American Farm Bureau Federation, and A. Boyd Campbell, president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce: Collective bargaining agreements which force workers to join unions violate the first amendment's freedom of association guarantee; and Federal power has constantly expanded beyond limits envisioned in the constitution.

Workingman citizen—William F. Schnitzler, secretary-treasurer of the AFL: A number of states in recent years have passed laws unjustly limiting workers' rights to engage in union activities; and the Federal Taft-Hartley labor law should be repealed.

Woman citizen—Mrs. John G. Lee, president of the League of Women Voters: Patriotic-minded citizens, who don't seem to accept the need for dissent in a democracy, are jeopardizing tolerance for the opinions of others; but the climate for tolerance has improved since a year ago.

Defeated At Rio Santiago

The first major rebel defeat came at the Rio Santiago Naval Base in southern Argentina, where loyal airmen and ground troops raised bombs and artillery shells on anti-Peron forces. An official announcement said the revolutionary units there surrendered shortly before midnight after a day of furious fighting.

Another government announcement said a rebel garrison at Curuzu Cuatia fell early this morning and loyal troops were in pursuit of the rebels. Many prisoners were reported taken. Cuatia is a rail junction and airport town of 15,000 persons 325 miles northwest of Buenos Aires.

Puerto Belgrano, site of a naval base 350 miles southwest of Buenos Aires, apparently was a major rebel stronghold. A broadcast from there yesterday said the revolutionary forces were gathering for a march on Buenos Aires. The broadcast urged civilian support for the uprising and said:

No Short Struggle

"The struggle has not been started so that it will be over in a few hours...It will last as long as necessary."

Two loyalist air force planes were reported shot down by anti-aircraft fire at Puerto Belgrano.

Pro-Peron units were reported in action against rebel-held Bahua Blanca, a major Atlantic port near Puerto Belgrano.

State Of Siege

Peron presumably was directing the counterattack against the rebels from this tense capital. He conferred yesterday with his top ministers and military chiefs at his office and later at the army ministry. Later in the day he went to his residence where a spokesman said he was kept "constantly informed of the situation."

A "command of repression" headed by Army Minister Maj. Gen. Franklin Lucero was named yesterday to cope with the uprising. A 4:30 p.m. curfew was decreed and a state of siege, previously in effect only in Buenos Aires, was extended to the entire country.

No violence was reported in Buenos Aires, contrasting with the Buenos 16 revolt when the major fighting centered here. But anti-aircraft guns were manned in the city, artillery batteries were set up in the port area and all roads were heavily guarded.

Apple Crop In Adams County Cut
By Freeze: M. T. Hartman, Adams
County farm agent said today that Adams County's apple crop will be "less than two million bushels" compared with a normal crop of approximately five million bushels.

He attributed the sharp cut in the apple crop to an unanticipated freeze before and shortly after the apple blossom. He said the blossoms were out almost a month earlier than normal this year and the crop was severely damaged by the two freeze periods.

Today's Talk

WHERE IS GOD?

Every look at a star at night is a challenge as to the whereabouts of God. The same is true as we look into the smiling face of a flower — any flower. Man has done some wonderful things, but he had never made a flower! Nor a rose.
God is in all of these things — because He created them. His voice is in the trees and the wind. Every voice and sound in nature is His.
I once wrote that you could see God in the wag of a dog's tail. Get to know God and you will never be lonely. There is no friend, anywhere, to match Him.

I like that fine statement of the Syrian poet Kahil Gibran, in his book "The Prophet." He said: "And if you would know God be not therefore a solver of riddles. Rather look about you and you shall see Him playing with your children."

God is everywhere, but His happiest place is in the heart of man.
Man was His last triumphant creation. He was created and put into a beautiful garden — and that was the beginning of this earth's surface as God's great garden. Wherever you go you will scout perfume from Nature's flowers, and God is inside of each — even the tiniest wild one!

In every act of heroism, in hospitality and homes where there are illness, discouragement, and even despair, God's footfalls are evident.
He is always closer than we think.
His eyes are ever upon us. We should learn to walk with Him, and talk to Him, and know Him as he is — the same yesterday, today, and tomorrow.

All Nature teems with the pre-minence of God. No one will ever know the extent of His wealth.
Nothing but a mere token of God's secrets within the earth have to now been revealed. And never will all of them be discovered. Each one of us is but a breath in the time of eternity! How lonesome we would be, however, without a knowledge that God is always near!

TROUBLE TIMES

When I was just a lad in school
And errands ran for dimes,
The speakers, as a general rule,
Referred to troubled times.
"The world is sad to look upon,"
They sorrowfully said,
"When from the school room you
have gone,
Rough roads you'll have to tread."

From time to time some lecture-came
Whose voice this message
boomed:
"Upon mankind must lie the blame!
The world today is doomed."
But prophets of dismay and fear
Proved often to be wrong.
I trod the rough roads year by year
And somehow got along.

I know to balance greed and hate
The world men's best has had,
And still in spite of blunders great,
There's more of good than bad.
Grave dangers, seen and unforeseen,
Have been the lot of man,
And troubled times have always been.
Since first the world began.

DALLAS SCHOOLS
WILL CONTINUE
SEGREGATION

AUSTIN, Tex. (P)—The Texas
State Supreme Court sought today its own answers to the South's problem of segregated public schools, outlawed last year by U.S.
Supreme Court decision.

The high Texas tribunal listened to opposing arguments on the question for two hours yesterday.

In another court test of segregation yesterday, this one in Dallas,
Tex., Federal Dist. Judge William H. Atwell ruled that Dallas schools may remain segregated for awhile.

But Atwell ruled that white and Negro students some day must attend classes together because all Texas laws requiring school segregation are unconstitutional.

The big question on which the nine State Supreme Court justices will render a decision was: Can schools now integrating white and Negro students legally receive state financial support?

Entitled To Money
A district court has said the Big Spring, Tex., School District, where grade schools have been integrated, is entitled to such funds.

Dallas Atty. Ross Carlton of the Texas Citizens' Council an anti-integration group, told the State Supreme Court yesterday the U.S.
Supreme Court has never considered or acted upon the Texas law which provides for allocation of state money on the basis of segregated schools.

More than a dozen Negroes were in the shirtless crowd that filled the seats and gathered around the doorways to hear the arguments in the historic case.

How long the court will take to hand down its decision is not known, but it is expected to act as quickly as possible because of the urgent necessity for integrated districts to know whether they will have state funds for this school year.

The Cincinnati Redlegs are raving about rookie southpaw hurler
Charlie Rube at their Columbus,
S. C. farm club. In his first 197 innings he had fanned 175 batters, compiled a 2.41 earned run mark and had won 17 games.

POLICE PROBE HANDLING OF HEIRESS CASE

PHILADELPHIA (P)—Police
Commissioner Thomas J. Gibbons has ordered his personal staff to look into police handling of the investigation of the abortion death of Mrs. Doris Jean Ostreicher, 22-year-old food chain heiress.

Gibbons said the inquiry was prompted by a statement by Dist.
Atty. Samuel Dash that men from the D. A.'s office had found instruments used for abortion purposes when they combed the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Schwartz last Monday night. Mrs. Ostreicher, an attractive bride of two months died in the apartment the night of Aug. 24.

Two earlier routine police searches failed to uncover the instruments.

Dash said the equipment was found in an unlocked cardboard chest of drawers in a hallway. He emphasized, however, that when the police made their initial search — the night of Mrs. Ostreicher's death — they had no inkling of the nature of the case, and on a subsequent visit, they were lacking a search warrant.

The Schwartz couple is scheduled for a magistrate's hearing
Monday on charges of committing the actual abortion.

Biglerville Tallies Early, Recovers Fumbles, To Jolt Greyhounds 14-6 In Opener

Biglerville High School tallied touchdowns in each of the first two periods and then capitalized on Shippensburg fumbles to protect their lead as they topped a 14-6 decision Friday evening on the Cannons' field before approximately 1,200 fans.

Coach Bill Coradetti's outfit scored the first time they got their hands on the ball and held a comfortable margin the rest of the way in opening their campaign auspiciously.

The game opened with Gene Shaeffer kicking off the Greyhound 16. After Gribble picked up four yards, Biglerville recovered a fumble on the 19. On the first play Jim May took a handoff and streaked around right end for a six-pointer. Shaeffer placekicked the first of his two extra points.

Late in the first period a short Shippensburg punt gave Biglerville possession on their opponents' 26 from where they drove to an early second quarter tally.

Recovers For TD

Bryant Roe picked up four yards, John Constable two and May six for a first down on the 17. Shippensburg drew one of its may off-side penalties before Constable added two yards each on two tries. Don Renteriz then battered through to the 3 for another first down. Constable was halted for no gain but then Renteriz broke through the right side of the line and went over the goal line. He fumbled when tackled and after a wild scramble by players from both teams, finally recovered his own fumble for the score. Again Shaeffer converted.

Late in the first half a mild Shippensburg threat was stopped on the 35 by a fumble which was recovered by Biglerville.

Shippensburg was a much improved outfit in the second half. The Hounds were stopped twice by interceptions by Bob Clark with play in the third period being confined mostly to between the 20-yard line. Midway in the fourth period Shippensburg reached the Biglerville 20 only to lose possession again on a fumble.

In the fading minutes of play Ken Pitzer got off a 53-yard punt for the Cannons with Shippensburg taking over on its 10. Unable to gain on two running plays the Greyhounds took to the air and when two fell incomplete, Biglerville took over on the 12 with about three minutes remaining.

Two plays netted five yards but on the third Dave Sowers picked up a fumble and headed down field. Roe, one of the fastest men on the Biglerville squad, finally caught him at the 8 but the fired up Greyhounds were not to be denied.

On the third try Sowers went around left end on a handoff to tally with but a minute remaining. A pass for the point failed.

Time ran out with the Cannons in possession following an attempted on-side kick by the visitors.

May and Shaeffer spear-headed the Biglerville offense with Clark and Pitzer turning in nice defensive work.

Next Saturday Biglerville, winner of three in a row (two from last season) plays at Camp Hill. Shippensburg meets the Gettysburg High Warriors here Friday evening.

HARVEY WARD UNDER PRESSURE FOR GOLF TEST

RICHMOND, Va., (AP)—For nearly a week Harvey Ward has endured the pressure that only Bobby Jones used to know when he was playing in the National Amateur Golf tournament. Like Bobby, Harvie has reacted like a champion.

Today the pressure still was on the personable, 29-year-old San Francisco automobile salesman rather than on tall, greying almost-40 William Hyndman III of Philadelphia as they met in the finals of the 55th national amateur.

You might think it would be the other way, but look:

Ward has tried for the title every year since 1947. He made the quarter finals then and the fifth round in 1950. He's been the favorite here from the start—hailed as the world's best amateur golfer and idolized by the big galleries at the James River course of the country club of Virginia. Every one of his opponents was bearing down.

Almost Ignored

Hyndman, the outsider who has had a wealth of golfing experience, was virtually ignored until he began knocking off favorites. He was pleased as a new parent when he reached the quarter finals because that meant he'll get to play in the Masters at Augusta, Ga., even if he loses. Bill has had his day of glory. He's tired, his feet are painful after a couple of 36-hole days, but he's happy and relaxed.

Even little Bill Booe of Bridgeport, Conn., a nonentity in big time golf until this week, put the pressure on Ward in yesterday's semi-finals. He scrambled, sank pressure putts and scored and carried Harvie to the 34th green before yielding. 4 and 2. Hillman Robbins, who had been expected to do well, collapsed in front of Hyndman's steady play. The Philadelphia insurance man had a fairly easy 4 and 3 victory.

Negro Plays On White Grid Team

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., (AP)—White and Negro students played together for the first time last night on an Arkansas high school football team.

With only three minutes left to be played William Hays Fayetteville Negro fullback entered the game to break the segregation tradition. The crowd didn't react when Hays went into the game but it cheered him lustily when he carried the ball for a 3-yard gain. Fayetteville defeated Siloam Springs 27-12.

Negroes were integrated with white students in Fayetteville's school system shortly after the U. S. Supreme Court ruled that racial segregation in public schools is unconstitutional.

Sportsmen Act Today On Sale Of Land

HARRISBURG, Pa.—Members of the Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen's Club take up a resolution today registering formal opposition to the state selling or leasing any more land such as was done in the recent Curtiss-Wright transaction.

The group will close its annual two-day meeting here today with a vote on that and two dozen more resolutions dealing with various facts of wildlife and hunting and fishing regulations.

Some top members of the federation said the selling and leasing of a 54,000-acre plot of land to Curtiss-Wright for an aircraft research and development plant was a "giveaway and full folly."

Ronnie Knox Hurlles Three Touchdown Passes In UCLA 21-0 Win Over Texas A & M

By ED CORRIGAN

The Associated Press
Ronnie Knox, a 19-year-old sharpshooter, has played exactly one game of college football, but he's already been plugged as one of the Pacific Coast's great backs.

In fact, even before he tossed three touchdown passes in UCLA's opening 21-0 victory over Texas A&M last night in Los Angeles, Knox was a "known" unknown quantity.

He had starred at three different high schools, then enrolled at California, only to withdraw and pop up at UCLA, rated the No. 1 football team in the country by the pre-season poll of sports writers and sportscasters by The Associated Press.

65,334 Attend Game

Delone Wallops Warriors 28-12 After Yielding TD; Stough Heads GHS Attack

The Delone Catholic Squires' out to his own 2. On the next play punch to break a five-year losing streak to their battlefired rivals by downing the Gettysburg Warriors 28-12 on the McSherrystown grid-iron Friday night before a crowd of about 3,200 with a good representation from Gettysburg.

Both teams turned in a fine performance and amazed the fans by being charged with only one penalty during the entire game. In the second quarter, after McKenrick had crossed the goal line for a Delone score the ball was pulled back because of an off-sides penalty against the Squires.

Stough Races 63
The Warriors got off to quick start in the old Gettysburg fashion by tallying the first touchdown after five minutes of the first period had gone by. With the ball exchanging hands following a series of plays by both teams, the Warriors finally took command on their own 20 yard line. On three straight plays Dick Stough and Fred Furney brought the ball out to the 37. On the next play, Glenn Weishaar handed off to Stough who skirted right end and booted his way 63 yards down field for the initial score. Don Smith's conversion attempt was partially blocked and the Warriors led 6-0.

Delone took the kick off and was able to return it to their own 37. Don McKenrick and Larry Little failed on smashes. Carroll Funk faded back on the next play and was able to hit Bevenour with a pass good for 53 yards, placing the ball on the Gettysburg 5. Skip Neiderer cracked the line for one followed by Little's smashing break off right tackle for four yards and a Delone score. With Larry Hockensmith holding Funk split the up-rights for the extra point and Delone was out in front 7-6 as the quarter came to close shortly afterwards.

Neiderer Tallies
The second stanza opened with Delone in possession of the ball on their own 29 after an exchange of punts. On a sustained drive of 65 yards the Squires moved the ball to the Gettysburg 6. Big Skip Neiderer pounded through center of the line for the six yards and a TD. Again Funk's conversion was good and the score stood 14-6.

Gettysburg came roaring back for their second score of the evening. After returning the kick off to their own 27 yard line, the Warriors drove 69 yards, highlighted by Weishaar's pass to Gorman for 32 yards and Stough's jaunt around end for 12 more. With the ball resting on the Delone 14, Joe Tonsel crashed the tackle slot for five. Dick Stough then skirted and the remaining distance for the touchdown. Smith's attempt for the extra point was fumbled and the Warriors were trailing 14-12.

Biglerville Tallies Early, Recovers Fumbles, To Jolt Greyhounds 14-6 In Opener

Biglerville High School tallied touchdowns in each of the first two periods and then capitalized on Shippensburg fumbles to protect their lead as they capped a 14-6 decision Friday evening on the Cannons' field before approximately 1,200 fans.

Coach Bill Coradetti's outfit scored the first time they got their hands on the ball and held a comfortable margin the rest of the way in opening their campaign auspiciously.

The game opened with Gene Sheaffer kicking off the Greyhound 16. After Gribble picked up four yards, Biglerville recovered a fumble on the 19. On the first play Jim May took a handoff and streaked around right end for a six-pointer. Sheaffer placekicked the first of his two extra points.

Late in the first period a short Shippensburg punt gave Biglerville possession on their opponents' 26 from where they drove to an early second quarter tally.

Recovers Fo-TD

Bryant Roe picked up four yards, John Constable two and May six for a first down on the 17. Shippensburg drew one of its may off-side penalties before Constable added two yards each on two tries. Don Rentzel then battered through to the 3 for another first down. Constable was halted for no gain but then Rentzel broke through the right side of the line and went over the goal line. He fumbled when tackled and from both teams, finally recovered his own fumble for the score. Again Sheaffer converted.

Late in the first half a mild Shippensburg threat was stopped on the 35 by a fumble which was recovered by Biglerville.

Shippensburg was a much improved outfit in the second half. The Hounds were stopped twice by interceptions by Bob Clark with play in the third period being confined mostly to between the 20-yard lines.

Midway in the fourth period Shippensburg reached the Biglerville 20 only to lose possession again on a fumble.

Sowers Races 85

Two plays netted five yards but on the third Dave Sowers picked up a Canner fumble and headed down field. Roe, one of the fastest men on the Biglerville squad, finally caught him at the 8 but the fired up Greyhounds were not to be denied.

On the third try Sowers went around left end on a handoff to rally with but a minute remaining. A pass for the point failed.

Time ran out with the Cannons in possession following an attempted one de kick by the visitors.

May and Sheaffer spear-headed the Biglerville offense with Clark and Pitzer turning in nice defensive work.

Next Saturday Biglerville, winner of three in a row (two from last season) plays at Camp Hill. Shippensburg meets the Gettysburg High Warriors here Friday evening.

Paul Giel Starred Against Michigan

NEW YORK—Pitcher Paul Giel of the Giants still likes to talk football. But seldom discusses his own great performances on the gridiron.

Rather reluctantly the former All-America backfield star from Minnesota recalled his best day on the football field. It was against Michigan when the Gophers won the Little Brown Jug for the first time in 11 years.

Here's what Paul did: Gained 112 yards rushing, completed 13 of 18 passes for 169 yards, scored two touchdowns and passed for a third, intercepted two passes and ran back five kicks.

HARVEY WARD UNDER PRESSURE FOR GOLF TEST

RICHMOND, Va.—For nearly a week Harvie Ward has endured the pressure that only Bobby Jones used to know when he was playing in the National Amateur Golf tournament. Like Bobby, Harvie has reacted like a champion.

Today the pressure still was on the personable, 29-year-old San Francisco automobile salesman rather than on tall, greying almost-40 William Hyndman III of Philadelphia as they met in the finals of the 55th national amateur.

You might think it would be the other way, but look:

Ward has tried for the title every year since 1947. He made the quarter finals then and the fifth round in 1950. He's been the favorite here from the start—hailed as the world's best amateur golfer and idolized by the big galleries at the James River course of the country club of Virginia. Every one of his opponents was bearing down.

Almost Ignored

Hyndman, the outsider who has had a wealth of golfing experience, was virtually ignored until he began knocking off favorites. He was pleased as a new parent when he reached the quarter finals because that meant he'll get to play in the Masters at Augusta, Ga., even if he loses. Bill has had his day of glory. He's tired, his feet are painful after a couple of 36-hole days, but he's happy and relaxed.

Even little Bill Booe of Bridgeport, Conn., a journeyman in big time golf until this week, put the pressure on Ward in yesterday's semi-finals. He scrambled, sank pressure putts and scored and carried Harvey to the 24th green before yielding, 4 and 2. Hillman Robbins, who had been expected to do well, collapsed in front of Hyndman's steady play. The Philadelphia insurance man had a fairly easy 4 and 3 victory.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark.—White and Negro students played together for the first time last night on an Arkansas high school football team.

With only three minutes left to be played William Hays Fayetteville Negro fullback entered the game to break the segregation tradition. The crowd didn't react when Hays went into the game but it cheered him lustily when he carried the ball for a 3-yard gain.

Fayetteville defeated Siloam Springs 27-12. Negroes were integrated with white students in Fayetteville's school system shortly after the U. S. Supreme Court ruled that racial segregation in public schools is unconstitutional.

Ronnie Knox Hurles Three Touchdown Passes In UCLA 21-0 Win Over Texas A & M

By ED CORRIGAN
The Associated Press

Ronnie Knox, a 19-year-old sharpshooter, has played exactly one game of college football, but he's already being plugged as one of the Pacific Coast's great backs. In fact, even before he tossed three touchdown passes in UCLA's opening 21-0 victory over Texas A&M last night in Los Angeles, Knox was a "known" unknown quantity.

He had starred at three different high schools, then enrolled at California, only to withdraw and pop up at UCLA, rated the No. 1 football team in the country in the pre-season poll of sports writers and sportscasters by The Associated Press.

Yankees Club Two Homers In Ninth To Beat Boston And Move Into First Place

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

The patent for the big home run still belongs to the New York Yankees.

And combining that talent with the unexpected help of Detroit's Steve Gromek, the starter-turned-reliever, the Yanks are back in first place again in that treacherous American League pennant race.

A one-out homer by Hank Bauer drew the Yankees even with Boston in the ninth inning last night and after Ellis Kinder, the Red Sox relief marvel, got the second out, Yogi Berra rapped a shot into the right field stands to win it 5-4. It was Yogi's 27th of the year and his second of the game.

Until the ninth, Kinder had been tagged for only two home runs all season. Gromek, meanwhile, toppled Cleveland out of the lead with three-hit pitching in six innings of relief as Detroit won 3-0.

New York took over by two percentage points. The Yanks also gained a one-game edge in the all-important "lost" column. New York has won 82 and lost 56, with nine games remaining. Cleveland, with seven left, is 90-57.

White Sox Thrashed

Chicago's White Sox practically fell out of the fight with a 13-7 thrashing at Kansas City. Boston played to the hilt the "spoiler" role it shares with Detroit. A three-run surge chased starter Whitey Ford in the eighth and gave the Red Sox a 4-3 advantage. But then, in a twinkling, it was all over.

Bauer connected on a 1-1 pitch off Kinder, who by baseball standards should be drawing social security. The 41-year-old righthander fed Berra a fast ball and Yogi

Robin Roberts won his 23rd as Philadelphia beat Pittsburgh 8-1. The Bucks' Dick Groat homered, breaking the major league one-season record. The National, which set the old mark with 1,197 in '53, now has 1,206 home runs.

Milwaukee practically cinched second place, beating St. Louis 9-4 in the only other game scheduled.

Today's Talk

WHERE IS GOD?
Every look at a star at night is a challenge as to the whereabouts of God. The same is true as we look into the smiling face of a flower — any flower. Man has done some wonderful things, but he had never made a flower! Nor a rose. God is in all of these things — because He created them. His voice is in the trees and the wind. Every voice and sound in nature is His. I once wrote that you could see God in the wag of a dog's tail. Get to know God and you will never be lonely. There is no friend, anywhere, to match Him.

I like that fine statement of the Syrian poet Kahlil Gibran, in his book "The Prophet." He said: "And if you would know God be not therefore a solver of riddles. Rather look about you and you shall see Him playing with your children."
God is everywhere, but His happiest place is in the heart of human beings. Man was His last triumphant creation. He was created and put into a beautiful garden — and that was the beginning of this earth's surface as God's great garden. Wherever you go you will find perfume from Nature's flowers, and God is inside of each — even the tiniest wild one!

In every act of heroism, in hospitals and homes where there are illness, discouragement, and even despair, God's footfalls are evident. He is always closer than we think. His eye ever upon us. We should learn to walk with Him, and talk to Him, and know Him as he is — the same yesterday, today, and tomorrow.

All Nature teems with the remembrance of God. No one will ever know the extent of His wealth. Nothing but a mere token of God's secrets within the earth have to now been revealed. And never will all of them be discovered. Each one of us is but a breath in the time of eternity! How lonesome we would be, however, without a knowledge that God is always near!

Just Folks

TROUBLE TIMES
When I was just a lad in school And errands ran for dimes,
The speakers, as a general rule, Referred to troubled times.
"The world is sad to look upon," They sorrowfully said.
"When from the school room you have gone, Rough roads you'll have to tread."

From time to time some lecture-came Whose voice this message boomed:
"Upon mankind must lie the blame! The world today is doomed."
But prophets of dismay and fear Proved often to be wrong. I trod the rough roads year by year And somehow got along.

I know to balance greed and hate The world men's best has had, And still in spite of blunders great, There's more of good than bad.
Grave dangers, seen and unforeseen, Have been the lot of man, And troubled times have always been Since first the world began.

DALLAS SCHOOLS WILL CONTINUE SEGREGATION

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas State Supreme Court sought today its own answers to the South's problem of segregated public schools, outlawed last year by U.S. Supreme Court decision.

The high Texas tribunal listened to opposing arguments on the question for two hours yesterday.

In another court test of segregation yesterday, this one in Dallas, Tex., Federal Dist. Judge William H. Atwell ruled that Dallas schools may remain segregated for awhile.

But Atwell ruled that white and Negro students some day must attend classes together because all Texas laws requiring school segregation are unconstitutional.

The big question on which the nine State Supreme Court justices will render a decision was: Can schools now integrating white and Negro students legally receive state financial support?

Entitled To Money
A district court has said the Big Spring, Tex., School District, where grade schools have been integrated, is entitled to such funds.

Dallas Atty. Ross Carlton of the Texas Citizens' Council an anti-integration group, told the State Supreme Court yesterday the U.S. Supreme Court has never considered or acted upon the Texas law which provides for allocation of state money on the basis of segregated schools.

More than a dozen Negroes were in the shirt-sleeve crowd that filled the seats and gathered around the doorways to hear the arguments in the historic case.

How long the court will take to hand down its decision is not known, but it is expected to act as quickly as possible because of the urgent necessity for integrated districts to know whether they will have state funds for this school year.

POLICE PROBE HANDLING OF HEIRESS CASE

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Police Commissioner Thomas J. Gibbons has ordered his personal staff to look into police handling of the investigation of the abortion death of Mrs. Doris Jean Ostreicher, 22-year-old food chain heiress.

Gibbons said the inquiry was prompted by a statement by Dist. Atty. Samuel Dash that men from the D. A.'s office had found instruments used for abortion purposes when they combed the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Schwartz last Monday night. Mrs. Ostreicher, an attractive bride of two months died in the apartment the night of Aug. 24.
Two earlier routine police searches failed to uncover the instruments.

Dash said the equipment was found in an unlocked cardboard chest of drawers in a hallway. He emphasized, however, that when the police made their initial search—the night of Mrs. Ostreicher's death—they had no inkling of the nature of the case, and on a subsequent visit, they were lacking a search warrant.

The Schwartz couple is scheduled for a magistrate's hearing Monday on charges of committing the actual abortion.

Motorists Should Look For Dangerous Looseness In Car Especially Steering System

By FREDERICK C. RUSSELL

It's no wonder so many cars have fluid drive considering the number of drips at the wheel.

Tighten Up For Safety

In spite of all the complications which one finds under the hood and throughout the chassis these days it is encouraging that we owners still can play quite a role in checking over the car for evidences of excessive looseness. We can be most effective in accident prevention by looking for signs of dangerous looseness.

In tightening up for safety we should be especially wary of anything that doesn't seem right about the steering system. Too much play in the steering wheel not only may be a sign of need for a gear adjustment but will also result in bad steering. Then there is wear on the king pins and bushings which can be determined by jacking the wheels and shaking them making certain not to confuse this with need for taking up a bit on the wheel nuts. Much looseness involves cover plates for such parts as the timing gears on the transmission and other housings where loss of lubricant may result in a major breakdown. Looseness of universal joints will appear as a rattling sound when the car is driven slowly past a wall which serves to amplify the noise. There is also a sharp click when starting off. Worn universal joints can cause front-wheel shimmy at road speed.

These Mysterious Cars

I have never had this experience but one of the thoughtful readers of this column tells me that he recently traced a cracking noise in the car's front end to a few small blue stones from his driveway being caught in the front coil springs. By jacking the frame so as to take weight off the coils the stones were removed. I have however had most annoying squeaks from dirt at the base of the coils. On one car I actually discovered a cracked knee-action coil.

For Future Reference

Looking forward to the period of year where water in the gas can be a major difficulty don't overlook the possibility of water being tossed up by a rear wheel and directed toward the small vent at the gas-tank filler cap. There are many variations of filler pipes and covers and caps so I can't be specific here. But it is always something to consider. In one case mechanics solve the problem by eliminating the vent at the cap and installing one about an inch below the top of the filler pipe. This is then piped to a point where water can't be forced into it.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:

"Now that we are approaching the time of year when windows will again be closed don't overlook the possibility that you may suddenly notice you no longer hear some of the things that bothered you about the car's behavior in the summer. The chances are that they are still there and that something should be done about them.

"There is that dull growl of a bad rear wheel bearing which should be replaced. Or perhaps one of the rear wheels is loose and gives you a sharp click when you start out. The exhaust may be sharper than it should be because the tail pipe or muffler needs replacing. Better drop all the windows some warm day again just to check on the situation."

Reason For Hard Brake

Hard action of the brake pedal with insufficient stopping ability can be due to incorrect brake lining but some other things to check into include noting if the brake shoes are concentric with the drums. Brake lining that isn't properly installed will give this unsatisfactory braking action and so will worn anchor pins.

In some cases the trouble is due to the drums which having been cut down to correct for warpage are so thin they expand away from their shoes if the driver happens to use the brakes for too long a period as in going down a long grade. Here the drums expand to a point where the brakes "fade." The driver has the feeling that he is doing a lot of work with little by way of results. Here he should immediately shift down to a lower gear so as to spare the brakes. When they cool they will recover their effectiveness.

Toward Better Lighting

The newly improved sealed beam headlights, featuring a shield to provide better control of light rays when on the low beam, have revived interest in the importance of proper focusing, good connections and cleanliness. Lighting experts say that dirty headlights will cut down illumination as much as 50 per cent.

In rain, fog, snow and dust always use the low beam because the high rays will strike the molecules of foreign matter in the air

$157 MILLION FLOOD DAMAGE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Industrial plants in the six Northeastern states hit by hurricane-flood last month suffered damage totaling some 157 million dollars, the Commerce Department reported.

In making this preliminary estimate of actual losses, the department said yesterday, silt and debris are still being dug out of hundreds of plants but much equipment earlier reported destroyed has been found in restorable condition.

Connecticut, with 72½ million dollars worth, accounted for nearly half the total losses reported. This does not include damage to homes, highways and other nonindustrial facilities.

Meanwhile the Treasury announced it is guaranteeing 90 per cent of a 10-million-dollar, 10-year loan a group of banks is making to the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Co. to restore "the heavy damage suffered by the railroad during the recent floods."

and cause innumerable reflections.

When another car approaches step on the dimmer switch when between 1000 and 1500 feet from it. This is about a quarter mile.

If you have ever had experience towing a trailer and the matter of braking has been a problem you will be interested to know that there is available a special control which activates the trailer ahead of the brakes on the tow car. In other words, the trailer starts to slow down before the tow car, thus eliminating risk of the jack-knifing.

Experience seems to indicate that if there has been dirt in the gas tank it is better to replace the tank rather than trust to the efficiency of the fuel filter. Modern tanks are flat which means that when they are half filled, and particularly if the car is going over roads at higher speeds, some of this dirt is going to be stirred up and drawn through to the fuel pump. Any very fine dirt or sand that gets through to the carburetor is certain to cause stalling. It is the kind of stalling that doesn't usually respond to the simple trick of opening the throttle wide when cranking because the needle valve stays unseated and the carburetor floods.

Passing Along The News

Although he hears about trouble from morning to night your repairman welcomes a brief account of some trouble which you or some other mechanic may have solved. While it may have no bearing on the situation on which he is currently working the information you impart to him may be useful to him later on. Or perhaps your solution will be just what is needed for some particularly tough problem. However, be sure of your facts. Owners often tell tall yarns which sound interesting but which have no basis in fact. That is just a waste of time, and mechanics have to be on their guard.

VET ELEPHANT HANDLERS WILL HUNT FOR VICKI

CHARLOTTE N.C. (AP) — A crew of experienced elephant handlers from the Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey Circus was expected here today to take charge of the hunt for the runaway Vicki a 6-year-old Indian elephant.

Louie Reed head elephant trainer for the circus was to fly here from California by way of Sarasota Fla. Ringling's Winter quarters. Reed said yesterday he plans to catch Vicki with kindness.

The hunt for Vicki was called off yesterday after the elephant wandered off from the area where she had stayed since leaving her amusement park home.

Vicki's owner Jack Partlow said the crowds chasing her have made Vicki nervous. He said Vicki's stay in the woods last night without anyone chasing her should "settle her down."

The big beast lumbered from her home at the amusement park last Sunday. She went across a heavily traveled boulevard and into a marshland where she remained until late Thursday night when she wandered back across the boulevard.

She last was seen in the vicinity of Douglas municipal airport in a clump of woods.

Mecklenburg County police are keeping the crowds back. At one point more than 250 volunteers took part in the hunt.

After her week-long experience with the hunters Vicki is believed to be dangerous. She has charged three men on different occasions. Mecklenburg County police Capt. Joe D. Whitley said his force has a high-powered rifle "which could kill the elephant although she probably would be extremely difficult to kill."

CANADIAN GETS DEATH RESPITE

QUEBEC (AP) — Superior Court Justice Oscar Boulanger has granted Wilbert Coffin a stay of execution to permit the Supreme Court of Canada to hear a motion for an appeal from Coffin's conviction of the slaying of a young Pennsylvania bear hunter.

Justice Boulanger yesterday postponed Coffin's execution date to Oct. 23 after Francois Gravel defense counsel for the 43-year-old Gaspe prospector said the high court would hear his motion Oct. 4.

Supreme Court Justice Douglas Abbott earlier turned down Gravel's request but the new action is to be presented before the full court.

Coffin was convicted last year of the 1953 murder of 17-year-old Richard Lindsey of Hollidaysburg Pa. after the remains of Richard's father Eugene 47 and a friend, Albert Cloar, 20, was found in the wild bush country of the Gaspe peninsula.

He originally was sentenced to be hanged last Nov. 26. But the date has been pushed back from time to time during a series of legal moves by Coffin's counsel. The last date was Sept. 23.

MOST EXPERTS FAVOR CHAMP

By MURRAY ROSE

GROSSINGER, N.Y. (AP) — A heavy majority of boxing's "insiders," the fighters, trainers and managers, pick heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano to beat Archie Moore in their title fight Tuesday night at Yankee Stadium.

Some hedge somewhat by saying Moore will be "dangerous for five or six rounds" but if it goes beyond that it will be curtains for the 38-year-old light heavyweight king.

Manager Jack Kearns and ex-manager Tex Sullivan, now matchmaker at New York's St. Nicholas Arena, were the only ones of some 20 boxing men we talked to who pick Moore to win.

"Moore has a good chance of busting him up," said Sullivan. "He'll win if it goes all the way and he could take it by a kayo if he nails Rocky right."

"Archie will win after a rough, tough fight," said Kearns. "They'll both be on the floor before it's over. Archie will win on his superior boxing and experience."

Motorists Should Look For Dangerous Looseness In Car Especially Steering System

By FREDERICK C. RUSSELL

It's no wonder so many cars have fluid drive considering the number of drips at the wheel.

Tighten Up For Safety

In spite of all the complications which one finds under the hood and throughout the chassis these days it is encouraging that we owners still can play quite a role in checking over the car for evidences of excessive looseness. We can be most effective in accident prevention by looking for signs of dangerous looseness.

In tightening up for safety we should be especially wary of anything that doesn't seem right about the steering system. Too much play in the steering wheel not only may be a sign of need for a gear adjustment but will also result in bad steering. Then there is wear on the king pins and bushings which can be determined by jacking the wheels and shaking them making certain not to confuse this with need for taking up a bit on the wheel nuts. Much looseness involves cover plates for such parts as the timing gears the transmission and other housings where loss of lubricant may result in a major breakdown. Looseness of universal joints will appear as a rattling sound when the car is driven slowly past a wall which serves to amplify the noise. There is also a sharp click when starting off. Worn universal joints can cause front-wheel shimmy at road speed.

These Mysterious Cars

I have never had this experience but one of the thoughtful readers of this column tells me that he recently traced a cracking noise in the car's front end to a few small blue stones from his driveway being caught in the front coil springs. By jacking the frame so as to take weight off the coils the stones were removed. I have however had most annoying squeaks from dirt at the base of the coils. On one car I actually discovered a cracked knee-action coil.

For Future Reference

Looking forward to the period of year where water in the gas can be a major difficulty don't overlook the possibility of water being tossed up by a rear wheel and directed toward the small vent at the gas-tank filler cap. There are many variations of filler pipes and covers and caps so I can't be specific here. But it is always something to consider. In one case mechanics solve the problem by eliminating the vent at the cap and installing one about an inch below the top of the filler pipe. This is then piped to a point where water can't be forced into it.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:

"Now that we are approaching the time of year when windows will again be closed don't overlook the possibility that you may suddenly notice you no longer hear some of the things that bothered you about the car's behavior in the summer. The chances are that they are still there and that something should be done about them.

"There is that dull growl of a bad rear wheel bearing which should be replaced. Or perhaps one of the rear wheels is loose and gives you a sharp click when you start out. The exhaust may be sharper than it should be because the tail pipe or muffler needs replacing. Better drop all the windows some warm day again just to check on the situation."

Reason For Hard Brake

Hard action of the brake pedal with insufficient stopping ability can be due to incorrect brake lining but some other things to check into include noting if the brake shoes are concentric with the drums. Brake lining that isn't properly installed will give this unsatisfactory braking action and so will worn anchor pins.

In some cases the trouble is due to the drums which have been cut down to correct for warpage are so thin they expand away from their shoes if the driver happens to use the brakes for too long a period as in going down a long grade. Here the drums expand to a point where the brakes "fade." The driver has the feeling that he is doing a lot of work with little by way of results. Here he should immediately shift down to a lower gear so as to spare the brakes. When they cool they will recover their effectiveness.

Toward Better Lighting

The newly improved sealed beam headlights, featuring a shield to provide better control of light rays when on the low beam, have revived interest in the importance of proper focusing, good connections and cleanliness. Lighting experts say that dirty headlights will cut down illumination as much as 50 per cent.

In rain, fog, snow and dust always use the low beam because the high rays will strike the molecules of foreign matter in the air

$157 MILLION FLOOD DAMAGE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Industrial plants in the six Northeastern states hit by hurricane-flood last month suffered damage totaling some 157 million dollars, the Commerce Department reported.

In making this first preliminary estimate of actual losses, the department said yesterday silt and debris are still being dug out of hundreds of plants but much equipment earlier reported destroyed has been found in restorable condition.

Connecticut, with 7 1/2 million dollars worth, accounted for nearly half the total losses reported. This does not include damage to homes, highways and other nonindustrial facilities.

Meanwhile the Treasury announced it is guaranteeing 90 per cent of a 10-million-dollar, 10-year loan a group of banks is making to the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Co. to restore "the heavy damage suffered by the railroad during the recent floods."

and cause innumerable reflections. When another car approaches step on the dimmer switch when between 1000 and 1500 feet from it. This is about a quarter mile.

If you have ever had experience towing a trailer and the matter of braking has been a problem you will be interested to know that there is available a special control which activates the trailer ahead of the brakes on the tow car. In other words, the trailer starts to slow down before the tow car, thus eliminating risk of the Jack-knifing.

Experience seems to indicate that if there has been dirt in the gas tank it is better to replace the tank rather than trust to the efficiency of the fuel filter. Modern tanks are flat which means that when they are half filled, and particularly if the car is going over roads at higher speeds, some of this dirt is going to be stirred up and drawn through to the fuel pump. Any very fine dirt or sand that gets through to the carburetor is certain to cause stalling. It is the kind of stalling that doesn't usually respond to the simple trick of opening the throttle wide when cranking because the needle valve stays unseated and the carburetor floods.

Passing Along The News

Although he hears about trouble from morning to night your repairman welcomes a brief account of some trouble which you or some other mechanic may have solved. While it may have no bearing on the situation on which he is currently working the information you impart to him may be useful to him later on. Or perhaps your solution will be just what is needed for some particularly tough problem. However, be sure of your facts. Owners often tell tall yarns which sound interesting but which have no basis in fact. That is just a waste of time, and mechanics have to be on their guard.

VET ELEPHANT HANDLERS WILL HUNT FOR VICKI

CHARLOTTE N.C. (AP) — A crew of experienced elephant handlers from the Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey Circus was expected here today to take charge of the hunt for the runaway Vicki a 6-year-old Indian elephant.

Louie Reed head elephant trainer for the circus was to fly here from California by way of Sarasota, Fla. Ringling's Winter quarters. Reed said yesterday he plans to catch Vicki with kindness.

The hunt for Vicki was called off yesterday after the elephant wandered off from the area where she had stayed since leaving her amusement park home.

Vicki's owner Jack Partlow said the crowds chasing her have made Vicki nervous. He said Vicki's stay in the woods last night without anyone chasing her should "settle her down."

The big beast lumbered from her home at the amusement park last Sunday. She went across a heavily traveled boulevard and into a marshland where she remained until late Thursday night when she wandered back across the boulevard.

She last was seen in the vicinity of Douglas municipal airport in a clump of woods.

Mecklenburg County police are keeping the crowds back. At one point more than 250 volunteers took part in the hunt.

After her week-long experience with the hunters Vicki is believed to be dangerous. She has charged three men on different occasions. Mecklenburg County police Capt. Joe D. Whitley said his force has a high-powered rifle "which could kill the elephant although she probably would be extremely difficult to kill."

CANADIAN GETS DEATH RESPITE

QUEBEC (AP) — Superior Court Justice Oscar Boulanger has granted Wilbert Coffin a stay of execution to permit the Supreme Court of Canada to hear a motion for an appeal from Coffin's conviction of the slaying of a young Pennsylvania bear hunter.

Justice Boulanger yesterday postponed Coffin's execution date to Oct. 23 after Francois Gravel defense counsel for the 43-year-old Gaspe prospector said the high court would hear his motion Oct. 4.

Supreme Court Justice Douglas Abbott earlier turned down Gravel's request but the new action is to be presented before the full court.

Coffin was convicted last year of the 1953 murder of 17-year-old Richard Lindsey of Hollidaysburg, Pa. after the remains of Richard's father Eugene 47 and a friend, Albert Clear, 20, was found in the wild bush country of the Gaspe peninsula.

He originally was sentenced to be hanged last Nov. 26. But the date has been pushed back from time to time during a series of legal moves by Coffin's counsel. The last date was Sept. 23.

MOST EXPERTS FAVOR CHAMP

By MURRAY ROSE

GROSSINGER, N.Y. (AP) — A heavy majority of boxing's "insiders," the fighters, trainers and managers, pick heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano to beat Archie Moore in their title fight Tuesday night at Yankee Stadium.

Some hedge somewhat by saying Moore will be "dangerous for five or six rounds" but if it goes beyond that it will be curtains for the 38-year-old light heavyweight king.

Manager Jack Kearns and ex-manager Tex Sullivan, now matchmaker at New York's St. Nicholas Arena, were the only ones of some 20 boxing men we talked to who pick Moore to win.

"Moore has a good chance of busting him up," said Sullivan. "He'll win if it goes all the way and he could take it by a kayo if he nails Rocky right."

"Archie will win after a rough, tough fight," said Kearns. "They'll both be on the floor before it's over. Archie will win on his superior boxing and experience."

DEMOCRAT ASKS REMOVAL OF SEC. BENSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Kerr (D-Okla.) said today Secretary of Agriculture Benson should be removed from office because he is "directly responsible" for the continuing decline in farm income.

Kerr made plain in an interview that he does not think President Eisenhower will fire Benson, long a prime target of Democratic criticism.

The senator said Benson's removal would require a "political operation"—a Democratic victory in next year's presidential election which, Kerr said, is the only hope for the nation's farmers.

Kerr declared Benson is "still playing hop, skip and jump with the welfare of the American farmer" and is trying "to hypnotize the farmers into thinking they're well off, as he's been doing for 2½ years."

Inherited Problem
The senator was commenting on Benson's news conference statement late yesterday that the farm situation is a real problem but one which the Eisenhower administration inherited from previous Democratic regimes.

Benson said yesterday, however, that he feels American agriculture is "basically sound," despite what he called "the claims of the prophets

This Boy Doesn't Like Pretty Women

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A 12-year-old boy told police he had slashed women's shoes and purses in several Little Rock department stores this week because he didn't "like things that make women pretty."

Police Capt. A. V. Haynie said the boy was arrested yesterday when a department store clerk saw him drop a razor blade when he picked up a shoe from a display.

Haynie said the boy had damaged several hundred dollars worth of merchandise. The child was turned over to juvenile court authorities. His name wasn't revealed.

of gloom and doom."
Questioned on that point, Kerr said Benson "has been making frequent announcements that farm prices were stabilized and the farm economy sound. Each time, reports of additional decreases have been announced simultaneously with his expressions of confidence."

Benson conceded that he "miscalculated" last year in his repeated predictions that the post-Korea farm price decline had leveled off. The miscalculation arose from the fact, he said, that farm production this year is running much larger than he had anticipated and this is helping pull prices lower.

EISENHOWER CALLS ANOTHER SPORTS CONFAB

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower today invited 139 sports world figures, top educators and leaders in other fields to a Sept. 27-28 conference here on building the physical fitness of America's youth.

The purpose of the conference is to get more youngsters out of the spectator grandstands and into active participation in athletics.

The President has expressed concern that lack of such participation is responsible in part for increasing juvenile delinquency, and for failure of so many young people to measure up to selective service requirements.

As announced previously, Vice President Nixon will preside at the two-day conference at Eisenhower's vacation headquarters here. The President will receive the conference's recommendations and

Widow Kidnaps Soldier; Off To Sea

RANGOON, Burma (AP)—An attractive 24-year-old widow kidnapped a soldier and carried him off to sea as his commanding officer looked on here yesterday.

The odd elopement took place after Ma Hia Kyi—well-to-do and with many offers of marriage in her books—pleaded with Maung Nyein Maung to return her love.

He refused. The merry widow whipped a dagger out of her sarong and escorted the reluctant Romeo to a waiting sampan.

There was no word of them tonight.

Those invited to the conference from the sports world include: Bobby Jones, the former grand slam champion of golf; Gene Tunney, former heavyweight boxing champ; Rogers Hornsby, one-time baseball great and now director of youth activities for the Chicago Park District; baseball Commissioner Ford Frick; Clarence "Biggie" Munn, athletic director at Michigan State University.

NIXON ANSWERS FARM CRITICS

WABASH, Ind. (AP)—The Eisenhower administration's farm policy, shaping up as the top issue of the 1956 campaign and already under heavy Democratic attack, was due for a top level defense this afternoon from Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

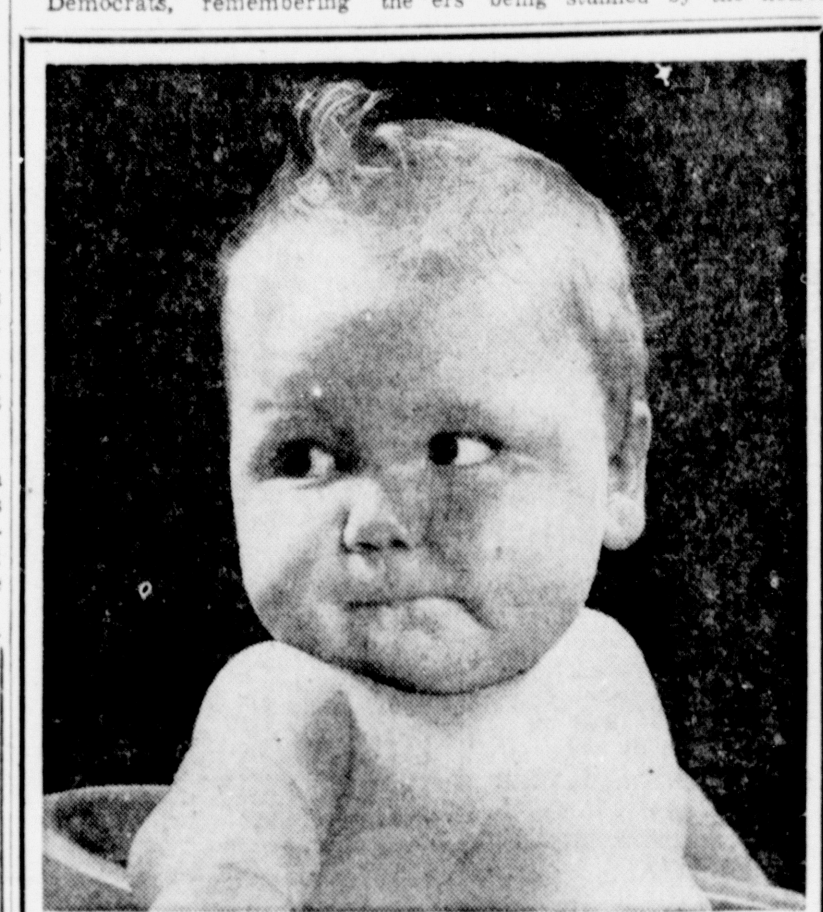

He promised to fire back in his speech here at the National Plowing Championships at Democrats who blame the administration for falling farm prices.

Democrats, remembering the farm vote which helped elect President Truman in 1948, consider declining farm income their best talking point in their fight to retain control of Congress and possibly elect a Democratic president next year.

National Democratic leaders claim the Eisenhower administration's flexible farm price support program is responsible for the drop in prices and have accused the administration of breaking its 1952 campaign pledges on the farm issue.

Studies at Indiana University indicate that some accidents around jet planes are caused by workers' being stunned by the noise.
